SMJC

The life of an SMJC student is a mixture. The time spent here is everchanging and full of many new faces, experiences, and memories. Each student has a special place at Southwest. This place may be found in athletics, music, academics, or fun. All the things that a student does at Southwest combine the mixture of the first years of college.

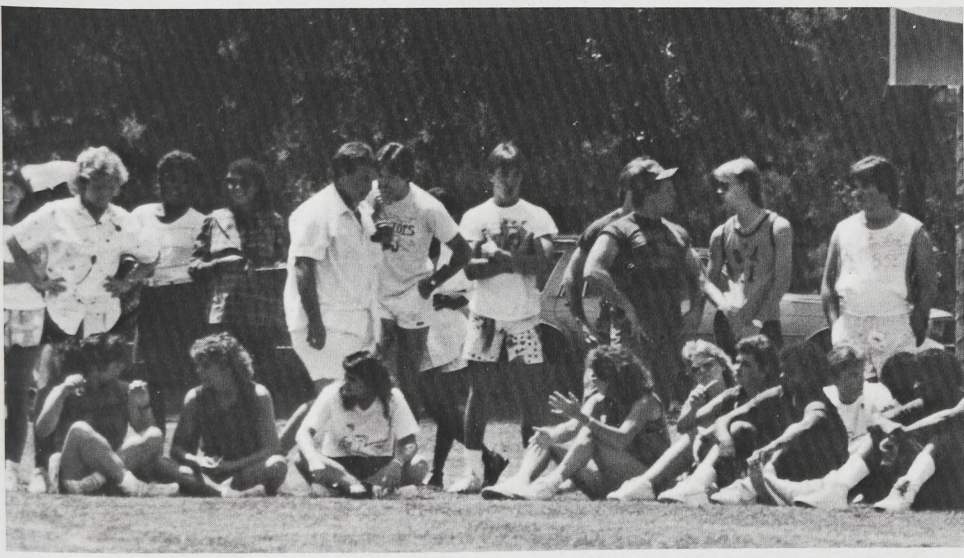

A MIXTURE

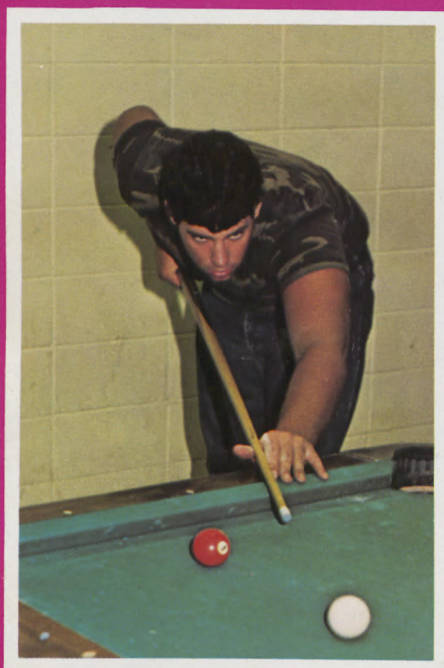

In the fall of 1986, 1,314 students enrolled at Southwest. This enrollment was one of the largest the college has had.

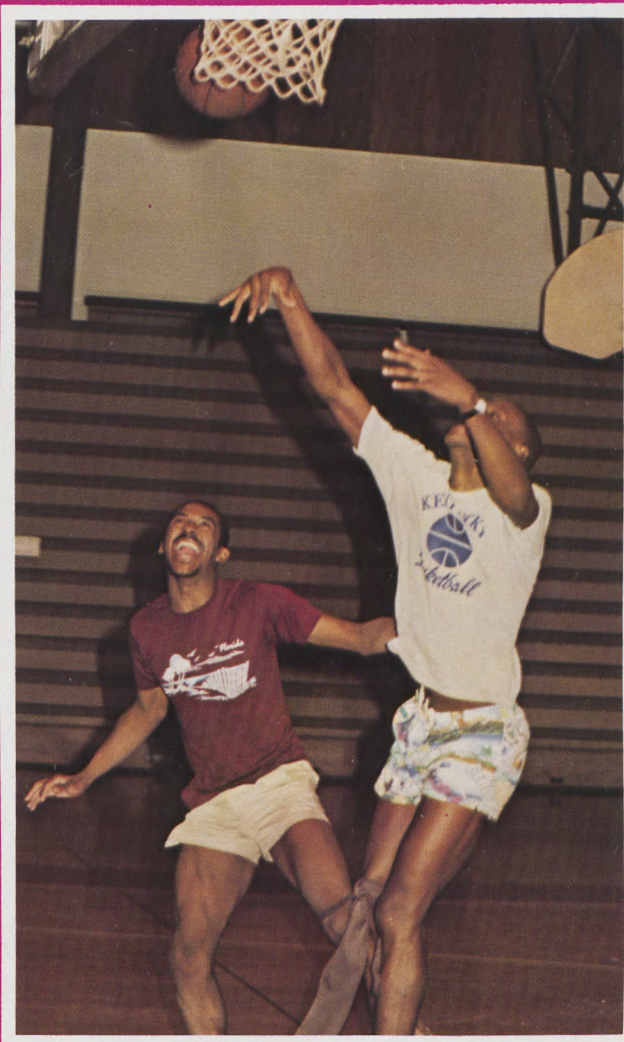

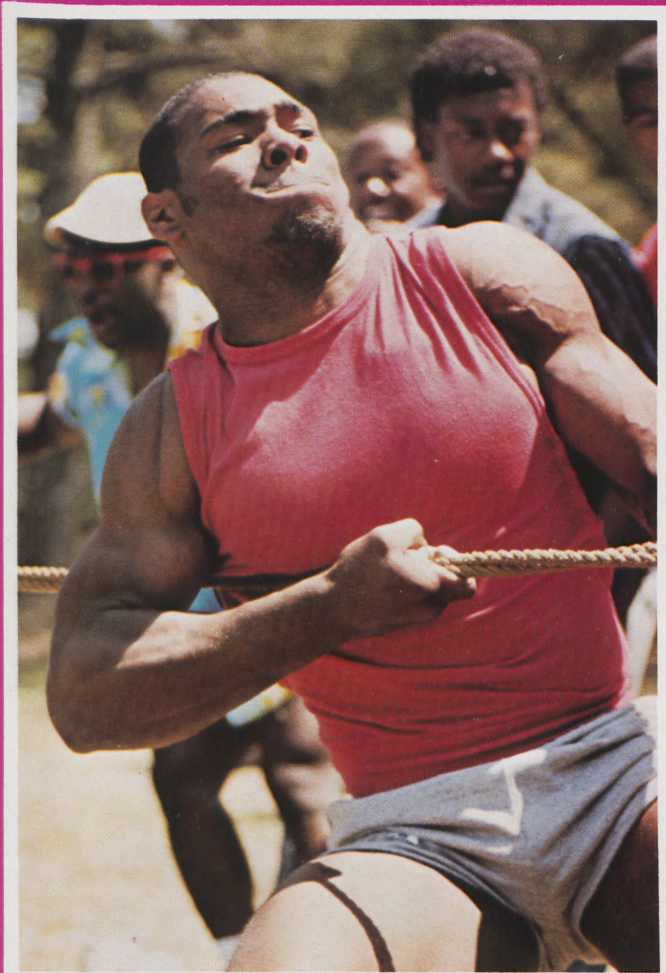

A mixture indeed it was—blacks and whites; Catholics and Protestants; foreigners and natives; athletes, artists, intellectuals, fun-lovers, commuters and residents.

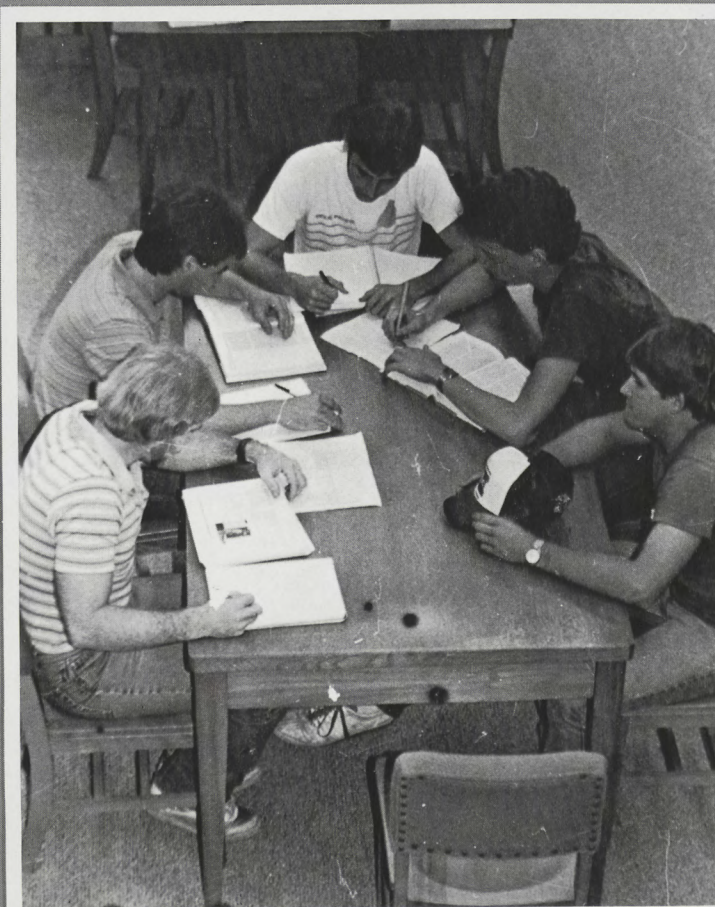

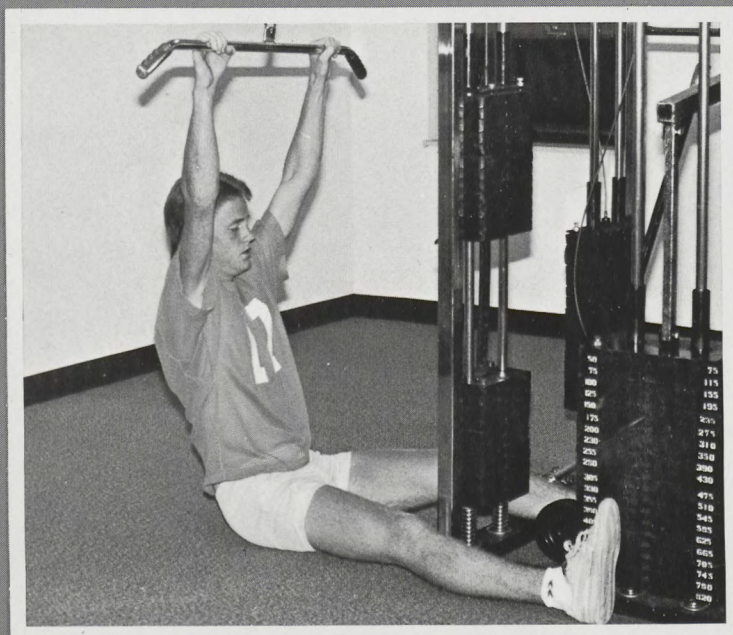

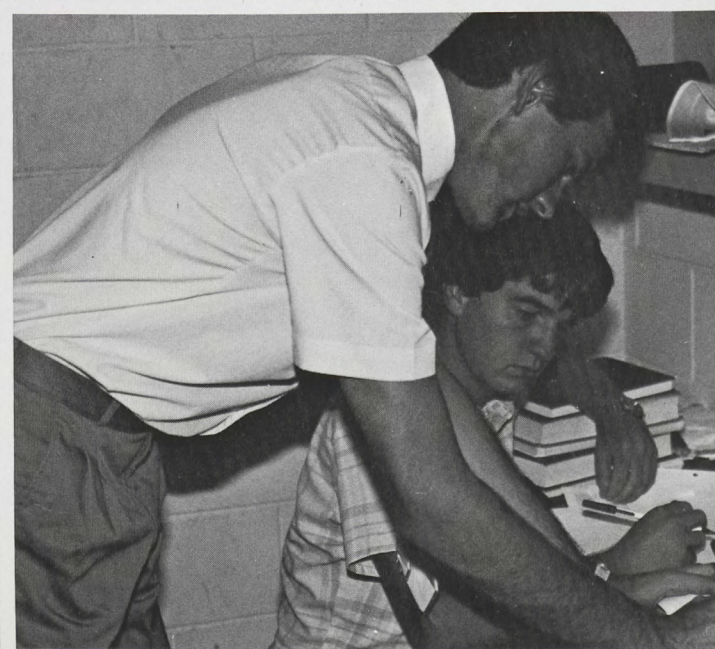

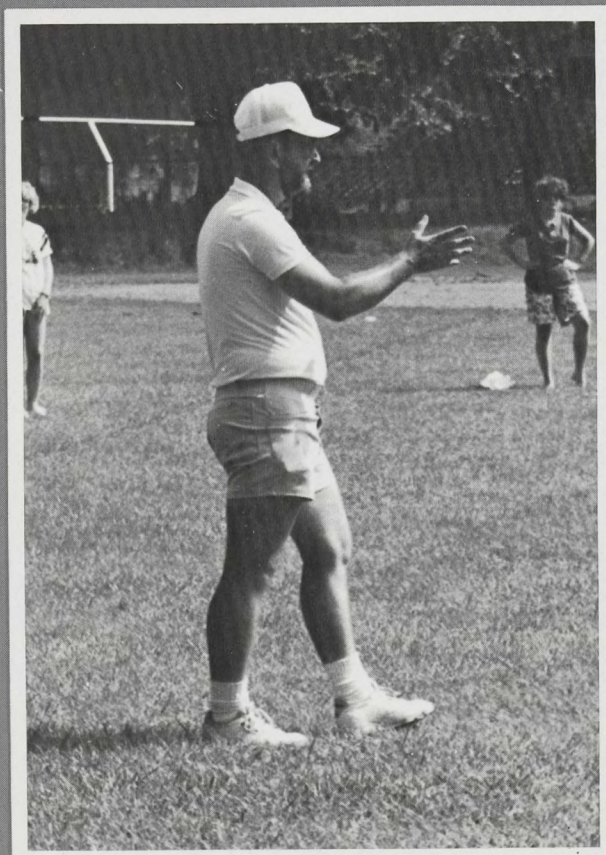

OF PEOPLE

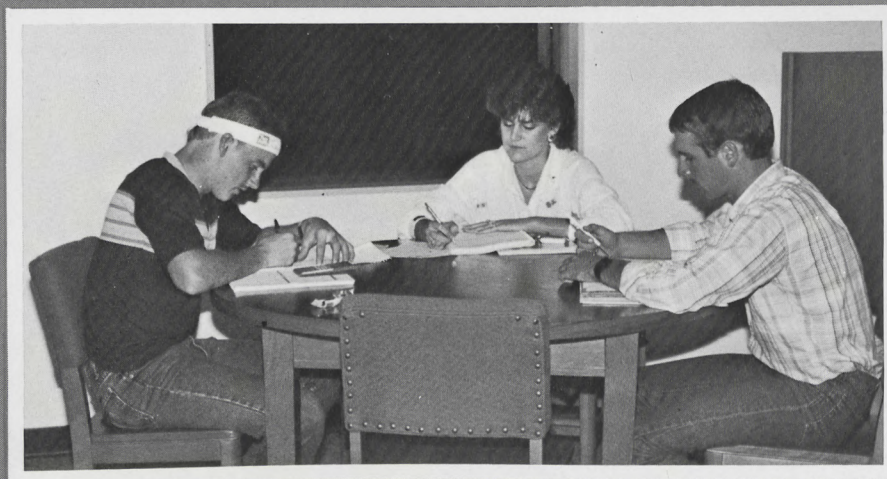

Fun is defined as what provides amusement and enjoyment. Here at Southwest there is an abundance of amusement and enjoyment and we still can't seem to get enough. We are constantly searching for something "fun" to do, and those "fun times" will yield the memories of SMJC that will last us a lifetime.

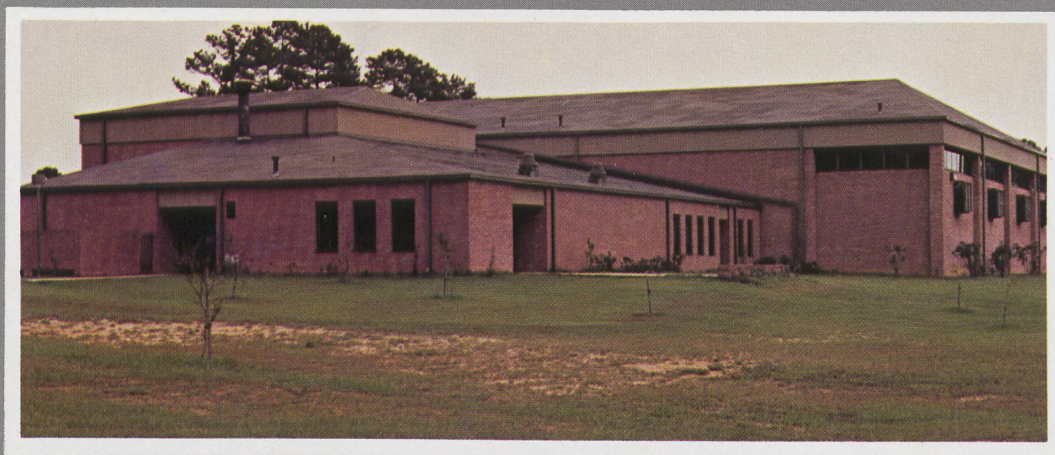

OF FUN

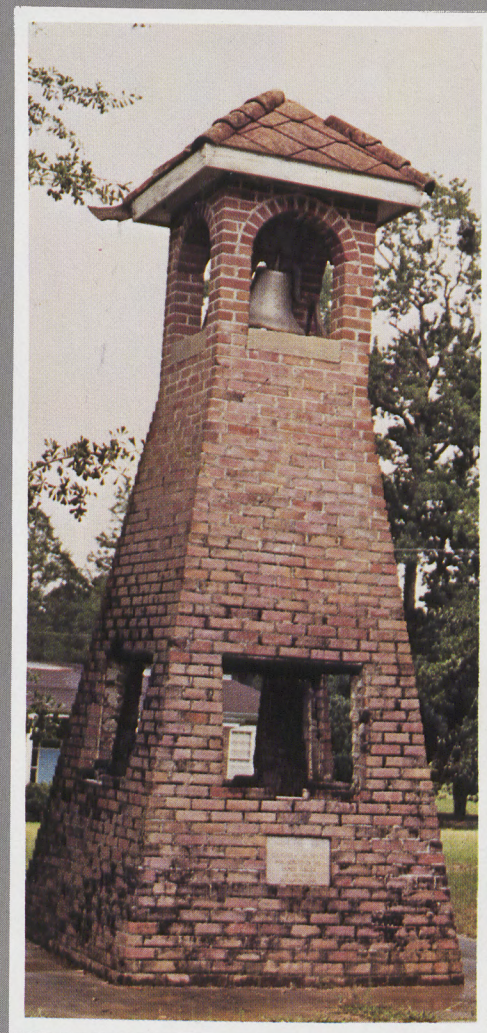

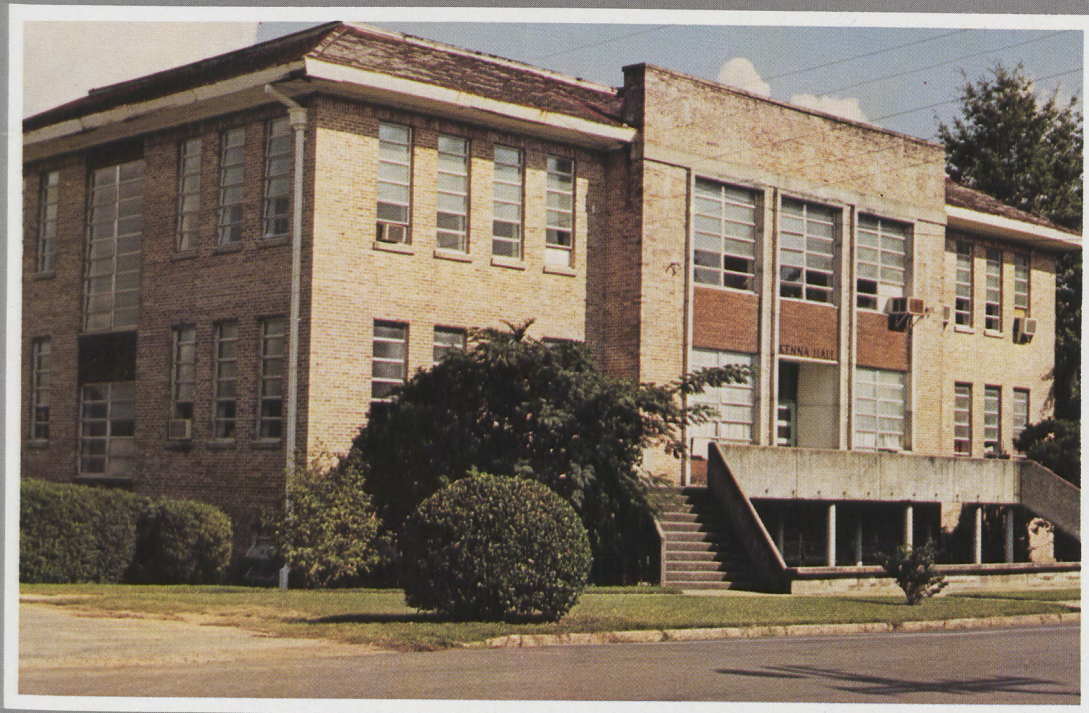

Labor, toil, drudgery. No matter how you say it, the key to every college success story is work. Aside from fun and play, day-to-day, repetitious tasks face each student. The chores are done with a bit of reluctance and tribulation, but nonetheless they get done. Task by task, small goals are achieved, and progress is made.

OF WORK

Southwest was originally a small agricultural high school with a student body of 34. In 1929 the high school began offering college work; with the addition of a second year the school became a junior college. Southwest, as of now, has 34 buildings, a stadium, and a farm.

OF HISTORY

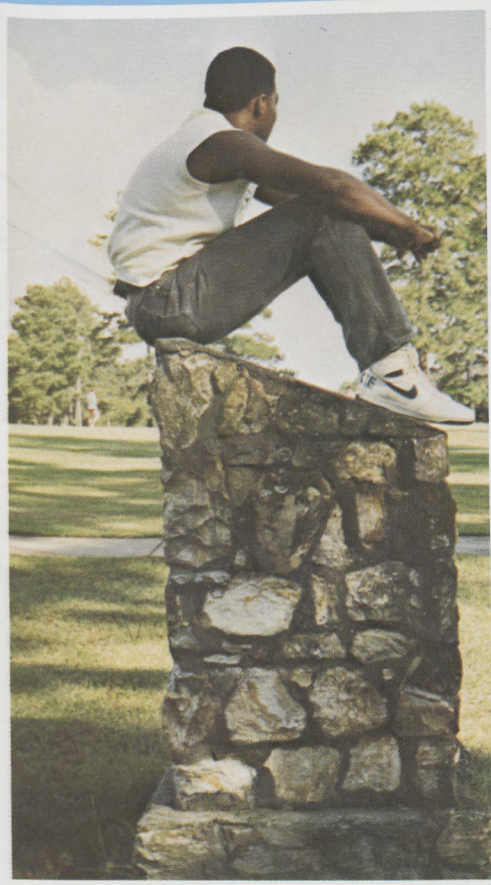

Spirit is communicated in different ways. It can be seen in the leading of the fans in cheers, in the representation of the school in music, marching, and dancing, in the striving to make a name for Southwest in athletics, or in just radiating a sense of pride for the school.

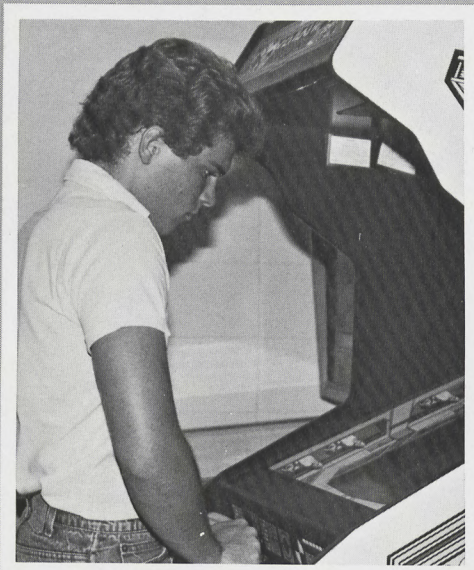

OF SPIRIT

Memories. The best of all that happens at SMJC will never be forgotten. Recollection of prosperous and blissful adventures accompany past and present students always. The joy we've all shared will be forever remembered, keeping SMJC alive in our hearts always.

HIGHLIGHTS

Ever since the first Southwest Mississippi Junior College Azalea Trail in 1966, the trail has brought publicity to the campus by displaying our flowers, buildings, students and campus in its entirety.

The Azalea Court was first sponsored by the Summit Garden Club. The court is now sponsored by the college. Reigning over the trail at Southwest is an Azalea Queen chosen by the student body. Other girls chosen in a student body poll serve in the court and as maids.

The 1986 Southwest Junior College Azalea Court maids and escorts are sophomores: Jill Grubbs and Raymond Van Dan; Alisha Yarborough and Tommy Johnston; Susan Moak and Stacy Perry; Freshmen, Robin Bean and Bucky Darden; Kathy Sirchia and Michael Fogg; Tammy Mixon and Denny Hughes; and Kim Alford and Kerry Ott.

Tammy Draughn was 1986 Azalea Court Queen and her escort was M.L. Causey.

Thursday, April 3, 1986, the union at Southwest Mississippi Junior College was transformed into a magical room with blue streamers and silver stars. At 7:30 p.m. the place came alive, and the room was brightened by smiling faces from students dressed in their best. Pictures were made by Lamar Tuminello in front of a castle backdrop. Music was provided by a D.J. from K106. Refreshments provided a rest between dancing and socializing. Many magical moments were made and a good time was had by all.

Bear Necessities Day on April 24, 1986, was held at SMJC football field. A cheering crowd supported their favorite SMJC athletes throughout the day. From the relay race, to the dizzy izzy, Bear Day, 1986 included a sport for any athlete who wished to participate. Other games included the car push, tug-of-war, the egg toss, the softball throw, and the tobacco spitting contest. The team competitions attracted much attention from the crowd at the field. The participants from each team barely had time to catch their breath before the next big event. Cafeteria workers served fried chicken and baked beans for all, and nursing students were on hand to check blood pressures. After the games, trophies were presented to happy victors.

At commencement exercises in the Fine Arts Building on May 11, 1986, the Rev. Bert Felder of Centenary United Methodist Church gave the invocation.

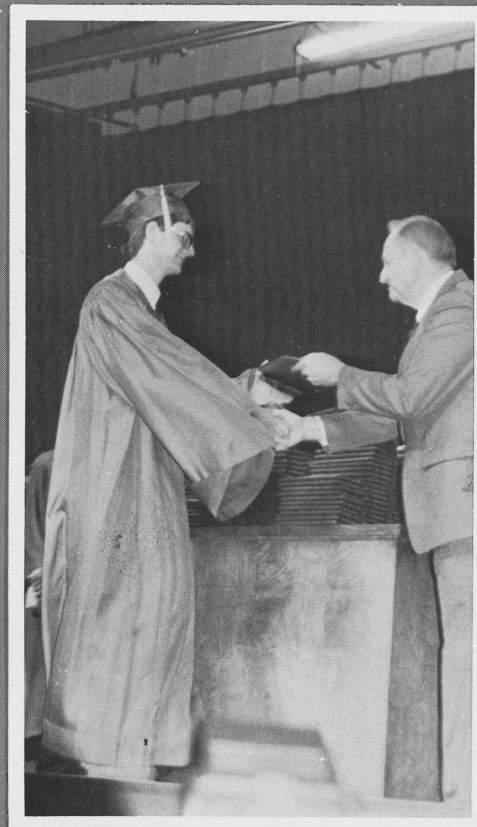

Following was the presentation of the class by Dean Charles R. Breeland, after which graduates received diplomas from President Horace C. Holmes.

The SMJC Dynamics sang "I Will Stand."

Mississippi's Lieutenant-Governor Brad Dye gave the commencement address, and the Rev. Phil Walker of First Baptist Church of Summit pronounced the benediction.

Of the 172 members listed to graduate, 16 were Phi Theta Kappa members, 11 received honors, 10 received high honors, and two were bestowed highest honors.

Flowers for the commencement exercises were given by the family of former SMJC board chairman Britte Hughey, who died in January.

STUDENT LIFE: THE DORMS

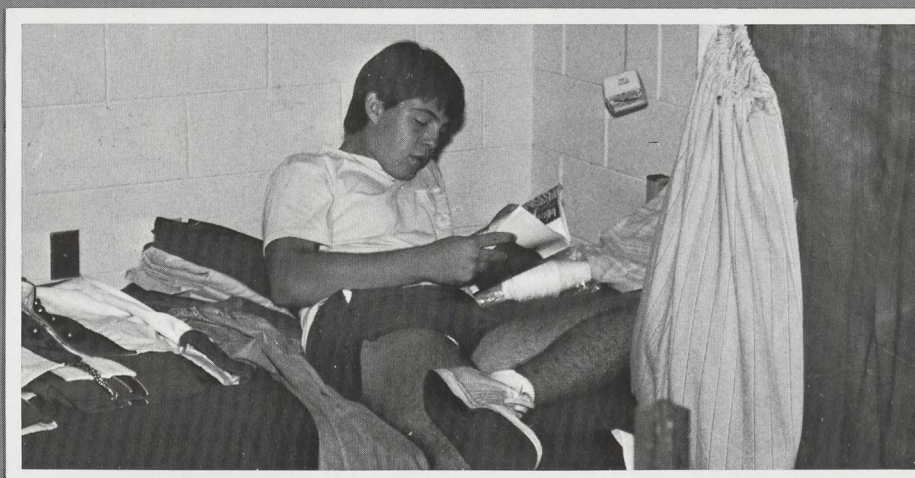

The dorms at SMJC are always a hub of activity. Our imaginations are put to the test finding activities to help us pass the time. We try to pet the stray kitten in the parking lot or try to get someone with shaving cream while trying to keep our potato chips dry. Remember when all the electricity went off and all the girls were caught without makeup and with wet hair? Who could forget all the gripes that were heard when the hot water went off in the boys' dorm? At Christmas the students looked forward to new curtains and during the summer new paint jobs in their rooms. Our parents during the week, Mr. Magee and Coach Bailey, Mrs. Toney and Mrs. Smith definitely have their hands full.

Have a Coke and a smile!

All right girls, that's enough!

Scott prepares for a long band trip to an away game.

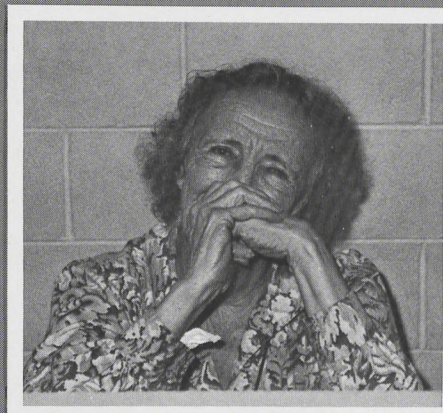

Rene, I just know you'll let me borrow your new sweater.

STUDENT LIFE: THE DORMS

Did you get the answer to number five?

Don't let this happen to you!

Air mail . . .

Dave! Dave! I've got 2 zillion points! And its only my first man!

Students relax after enjoying Mrs. Pope's wonderful cuisine.

Check out that chick over there.

STUDENT LIFE: THE UNION

Pat participated in a favorite student pastime.

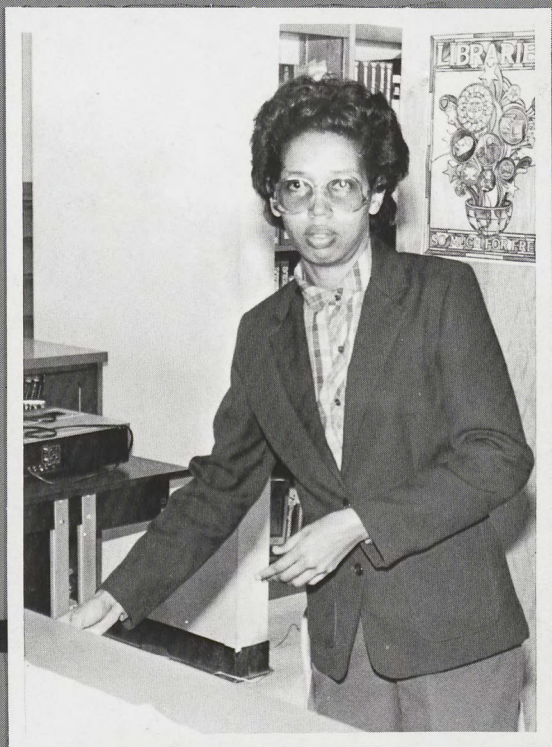

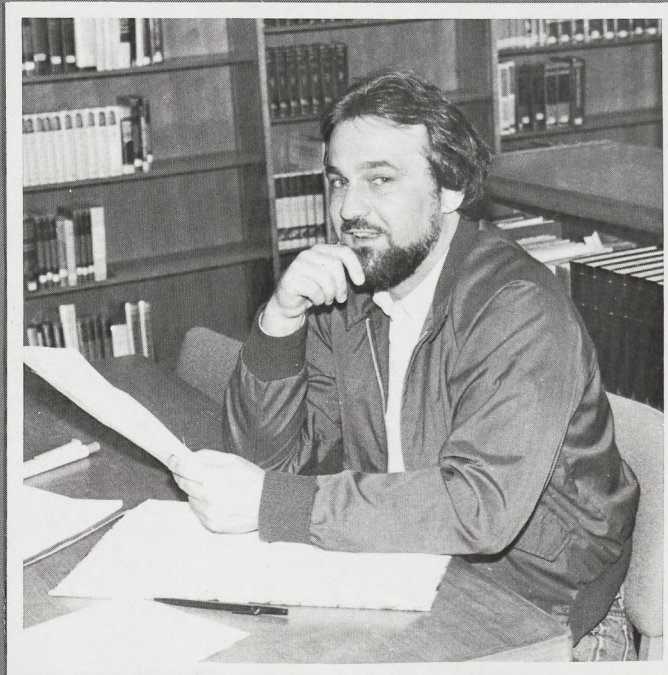

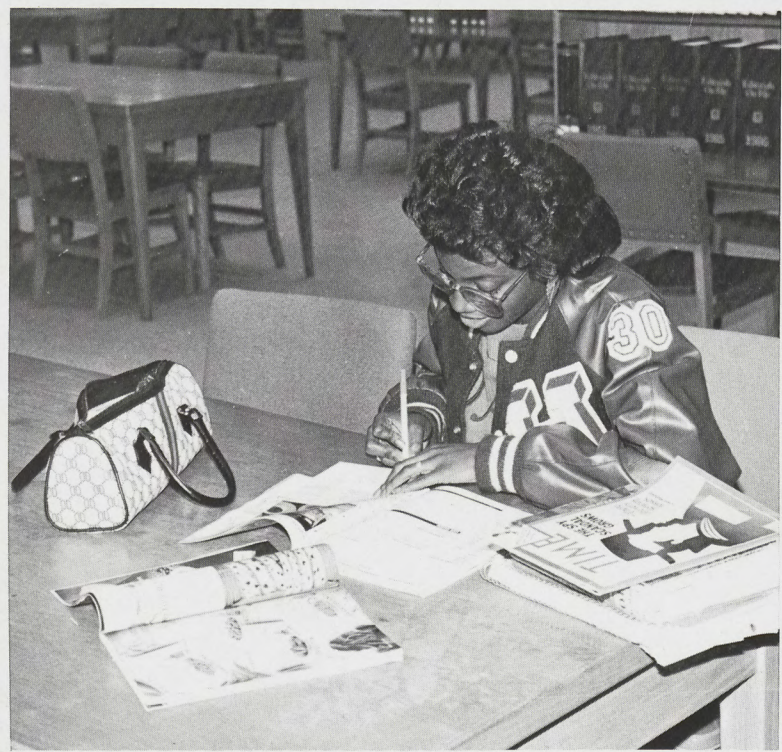

The union at SMJC serves our students as a kind of haven, a place to get away from all the headaches and the heartache of school life, if only for a little while. Ping pong, pool and video games, television, and even the food keep us coming back day after day. Nothing seems to be able to keep us away—not the risk of getting a parking ticket, or all the rules that are imposed upon us. We look forward to the extra activities such as voting for offices or homecoming court, the prayer breakfasts, SGA and other meetings as well as the dances that we have each year. WE LOVE OUR UNION!

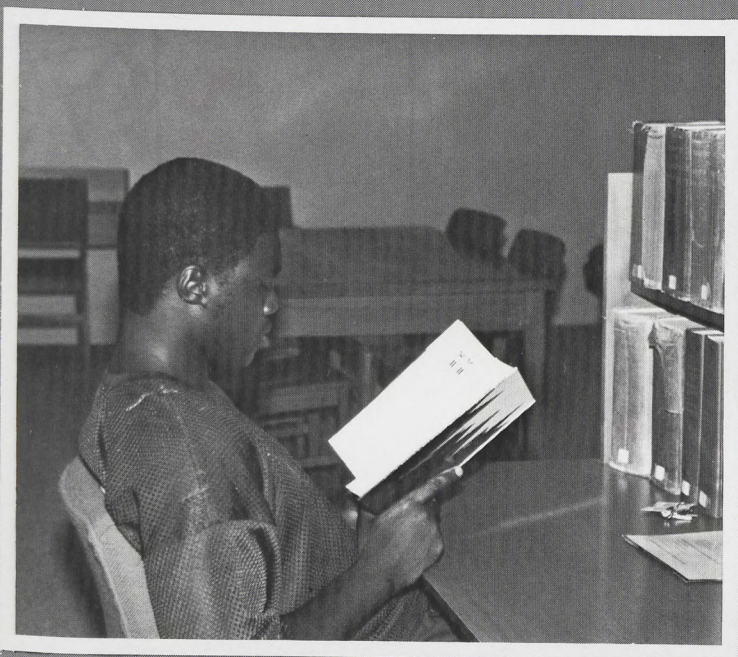

Mrs. McCaffrey waits on students in the bookstore.

Annual staff members discuss the number of students who have had their picture taken.

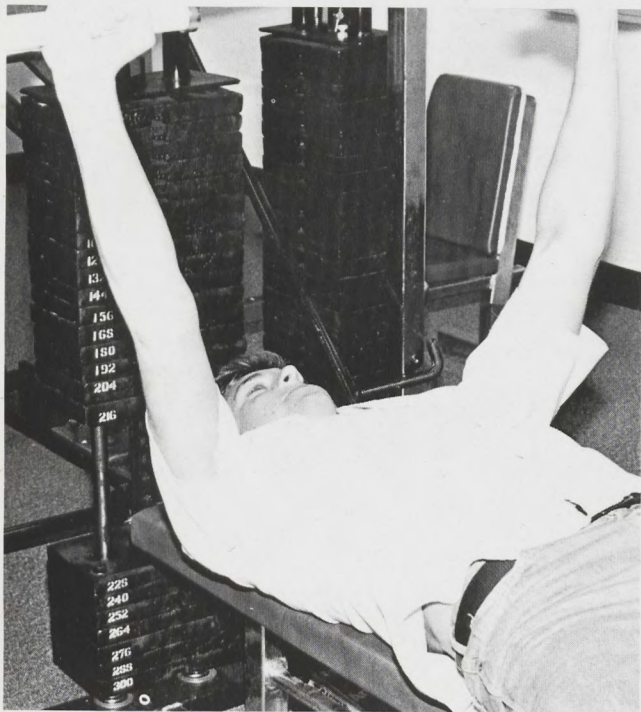

Do you know the size of the largest pizza or the price of the most expensive sport shoes? How about the author of THE FALL OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE? If the answer is "no", one might drop by the SMJC Library for a visit. Mrs. Young, Librarian, and Miss Cheryl McKinley, Secretary, along with their student assistants, can give a full tour from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, or 7:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Friday.

Any coach will tell you that no matter how great the pre-game activities go, the thing that makes a Homecoming successful is a victory on the football field.

That is just what the Bears did on Homecoming '86. They beat East Mississippi by a score of 21-17. However, the victory wasn't achieved without a nerve-wracking ending.

East Mississippi knocked on the door many times inside the Bears' 20 yard line, but was denied victory by the strong back of the Bear defense. Terrence Turner and Michael Hodges scored for the Bears with rushing touchdowns. Also, Dale Faulk scored on the receiving end of a Troy Constatine half-back pass.

HOMECOMING 1986

The faculty and students of SMJC experienced a "magical" homecoming the week of October 13-18. Students were encouraged to participate in the week's festivities by decorating displays for each building and themselves for each assigned spirit day. Monday began the week with Tacky Day. Students dressed as ugly as they possibly could. On Tuesday's Punk Day, students wore bizarre clothes, hair, and make-up helping to transform SMJC students into something from a London street scene. Wednesday's Hawaiian Day found students sporting loud floral prints, leis, and moo moos. Some teachers also got into the act. On Thursday Hat Day was a great success including everything from baseball caps to sombreros. Friday's Red and Blue Day finished the week with our vivid school colors.

On Thursday night, the SGA sponsored Homecoming Dance proved to be a great success. A good time was had by all. Streamers and balloons made the Union's atmosphere party-like and Top Notch's audio-visual displays provided the music for everyone to dance the night away.

AIDS—A REASON FOR HOPE?

Although AIDS remains a tough enemy, much has been accomplished in the few short years since the virus was identified. While research scientists race to find treatments for the disease—or even a vaccine—plain old low-tech education may prove to be the most effective tool against AIDS. That was the strong message delivered last month by both Surgeon General C. Everett Koop and the National Academy of Sciences. They called for AIDS education for all groups, including schoolchildren, to prevent widespread infection of the population. Right now, the risk to heterosexuals of contracting the disease is considered very small. But, the report pointed out, a lot of small risks taken by a lot of people can add up to a major problem.

"Learn what the risks are," says Tim W. Ph.D., executive director of the San Francisco Foundation. "That is, having sex with one of the high-risk categories: intravenous drug users—or a monogamous relationship with a person who has AIDS."

sex—use a condom if you are at risk." What's more, evidence that, once informed, people will change their sexual behavior is optimistic that education can be relied on. He points to the findings of a survey of 800 gay and bisexual men in San Francisco, a city with a highly AIDS-educated population. Since 1984, the rate of infection with the AIDS virus among these men has been about five percent each year—a dramatic drop from the eighteen-percent increase that the city experienced between 1982 and '84.

The National Academy of Sciences is another big step forward when it recommends to increase its annual budget for AIDS research and education. President Reagan's reluctance to spend more on social service projects is consistently increased funding. Appropriations leaped from $15 million in 1986 to about $410 million in 1988, and the AIDS Action Council is expected to receive $815 million allocated for 1988. These groups also rely on private donations, but that money will be targeted for the testing of drugs to treat AIDS. In September, the Food and Drug Administration approved the wider use of an experimental drug called AZT, which seemed to prolong the survival of some patients. "It's not champagne time yet," says Terry Beirn of the American Foundation for AIDS Research in New York. "But AZT represents an important turning point."

tion with other experimental drugs now being evaluated, according to Dr. Donald Abrams, assistant director of the AIDS clinic at San Francisco General Hospital; few malignant diseases can be combated with a single drug. And Abrams sees some reason for optimism when he compares AIDS to other illnesses. "Hodgkin's disease is now eighty percent curable—and we still don't know what causes it. With AIDS, at least we have a target."

JOHN'S LETTER HOME

Dear Family,

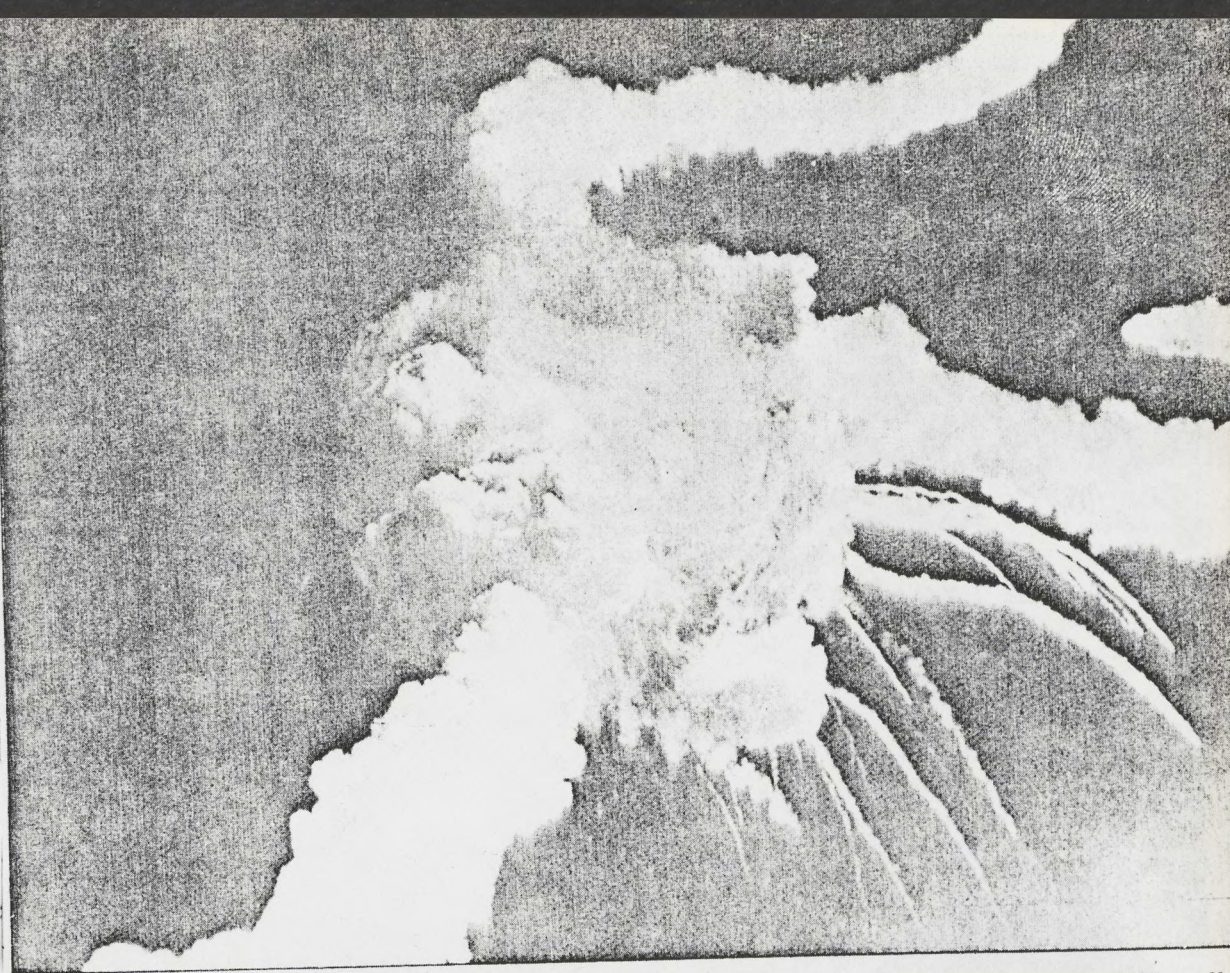

I'm getting better at writing now! This is the second time I'm leaving for Sicily on a two-week trip tomorrow. It's going to be long and hard. We start at 7:00 a.m., and they keep us busy until 7:00 p.m. Another problem will be water. It hasn't rained (not a single drop) in Southern Italy since late April. Naples has already begun to ration water.

I went to a party at the U.S. Embassy last night. It was sponsored by the marines. I found out this morning that they had a few terrorist threats there last night!!! I also had a beer across the street at Café de Paris, the place that got bombed a couple of weeks ago. I'm still alive at this writing!

I just returned from my two-week trip to Sicily. The countryside there is beautiful, but many towns are dirty. We did stay at a gorgeous town, Taormina. We ate lunch there and met a gentleman from Marblehead, MA. He lives in MA for the summer and Taormina in the winter. Tough life! Again I have been near terrorist threats. Reagan forced down the airliner [bearing the terrorists who attacked the Achille Lauro] in Sicily, and we drove right by the airstrip. They also held 4 terrorists in Syracuse, where we were staying. Some people are so concerned with threats that they canceled their trip to Greece. I'm going to Sorrento to stay with the family [cousins living in Italy].

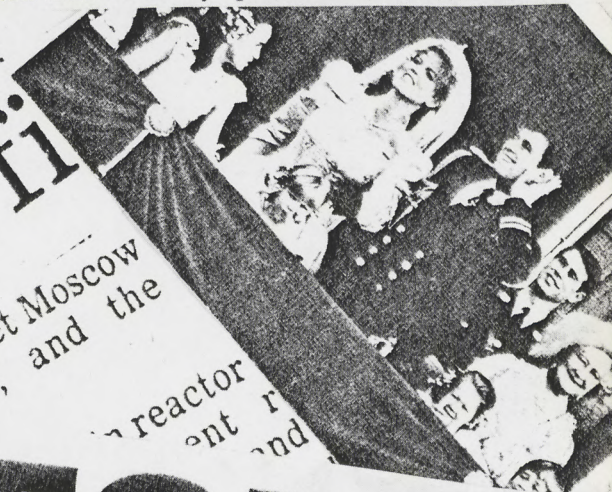

Todd, how's football? I wanted you to send me the clippings. I think that those are the two things I miss most, football and the Pennant Race. I haven't seen a U.S. paper for over two weeks, and I have no idea of what's going on in the States. I'll write on my return from the Buonocores.

John

The Student Government Association is under the leadership of President Steve Jackson and is sponsored by Dean Jerry Reid. SGA consists of four SGA officers, three sophomore representatives, and four freshman representatives.

SGA's purpose is to bring a closer understanding among students and faculty; to sponsor social events; to encourage scholarship, leadership, and citizenship; and to contribute to the betterment of the school and its educational programs.

The SGA sponsored many dances including the Homecoming dance and Spring Formal. They also sponsored student government, Homecoming Court and Azalea Court, and Who's Who elections.

Working on the WHISPERING PINES can be a lot of work but proves to be lots of fun, too. It provides a chance to learn new skills and meet new friends. Through many late nights and long weekends, loud music from the weight room and bouts with an unruly typewriter, the annual was successfully completed.

Aspiring journalists can find an outlet for their creativity in the campus newspaper, the PINE BURR. Published three times each semester, the 1986-87 PINE BURR staff is headed up by editor Jennifer Hays. Other members of the editorial staff include news editor Tommy Redmond, sports editor Michael Gunnell, cartoonist Chris Boynick, and photographers Gary Haygood and Steve Jackson. Staff membership is open to all interested students. The PINE BURR allows an opportunity for expression of student opinion and for the development of journalistic skills.

SMJC MARCHING BAND

The Southwest Stage Band is made up of gifted musicians, vocalists, and dancers who were chosen through auditions held in the fall. There are two main performances, a Christmas show and a spring finale, which benefit charity organizations. The Christmas show in conjunction with Phi Theta Kappa entertained a packed house. Funds raised were donated to the American Heart Association.

The stage band also performs for numerous civic organizations in Pike County. Characteristic of performances are special effects such as lighting, fog, and cannons. The band is an outstanding representation of the many talented students at SMJC.

WESLEY

BSU members, kneeling: Lisa Zeigler, Ben Punchard, Pam Cook and Robert Hopkins.
 Standing: Jennie Netterville, Roxanne McDaniel, Deidra Giaccone, Leslie Blackwell, Dana Perry, Tal Sibley, Sophia Smith, Kim Patterson, Mike Corry, Robin Agnor, Scott Reed, Jay Spence, Joanna Westbrook, Director Ed Abel, Mrs. Stewart, Judy Cade, Vicky Landry, James Stewart, Chad Kirkfield, Loran Walters and David Corry.

The BSU is a fellowship of college students seeking to find and implement God's purpose for them and their world. It provides opportunity for an inward journey of spiritual growth and an outward journey of service to others. The BSU proposes to lead students to commitment to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. It also encourages them to be involved in responsible church membership and participation in the life of their denominations. The BSU provides activities on campus for worship, discussion, Bible study, social life, witness, and ministry and leads students to give themselves in the service in the community and throughout the world.

Through the BSU, students can be involved in worship services on campus, student-to-student evangelism, retreats, forums, conferences, and recreation, study and growth groups, community service projects, annual state and national student conferences, a ministry to international students and others on campus, student mission projects in the United States and overseas.

BSU and Wesley are for everyone whether he is a Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic or other. They provide a time and a place for the students to participate in events that will help him grow and become leaders of tomorrow.

A couple of wild and crazy guys dress for the BSU Halloween party.

Students enjoy the BSU luau.

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

Southwest Alumni Association president, Bryant Barron.

The Southwest Alumni Association meets at Homecoming each year for a business meeting. At that meeting officers are elected to attend alumni affairs during the year. These officers are chosen from each of the college's tax-supporting counties.

Alumni Members are interested in Southwest and actively seek ways to promote and enhance the college programs.

Our annual activities include

1. Sponsor full scholarships
2. Award cash prizes for winning homecoming displays
3. Work with student government in selecting homecoming theme
4. Sponsor alumni award's banquet
5. Select two inductees for sports Hall of Fame
6. Select an Alumnus of the Year
7. Operate concession stand at each home game
8. Sponsor and staff weekly radio program, "SMJC Speaks"
9. Help sponsor radio broadcast of football and basketball games
10. Publish an alumni newsletter, "The Bear's Print"
11. Present graduating sophomores with one-year alumni membership

Other accomplishments during the past year were

1. Designed and purchased alumni association window decals
2. Sponsored two buses for transporting band members to Gulf Coast football game
3. Began feasibility study for renovation of Gillis Hall for an alumni house

The alumni association members are proud of Southwest Mississippi Junior College and stand ready to assist with any worthwhile project for its continued progress.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

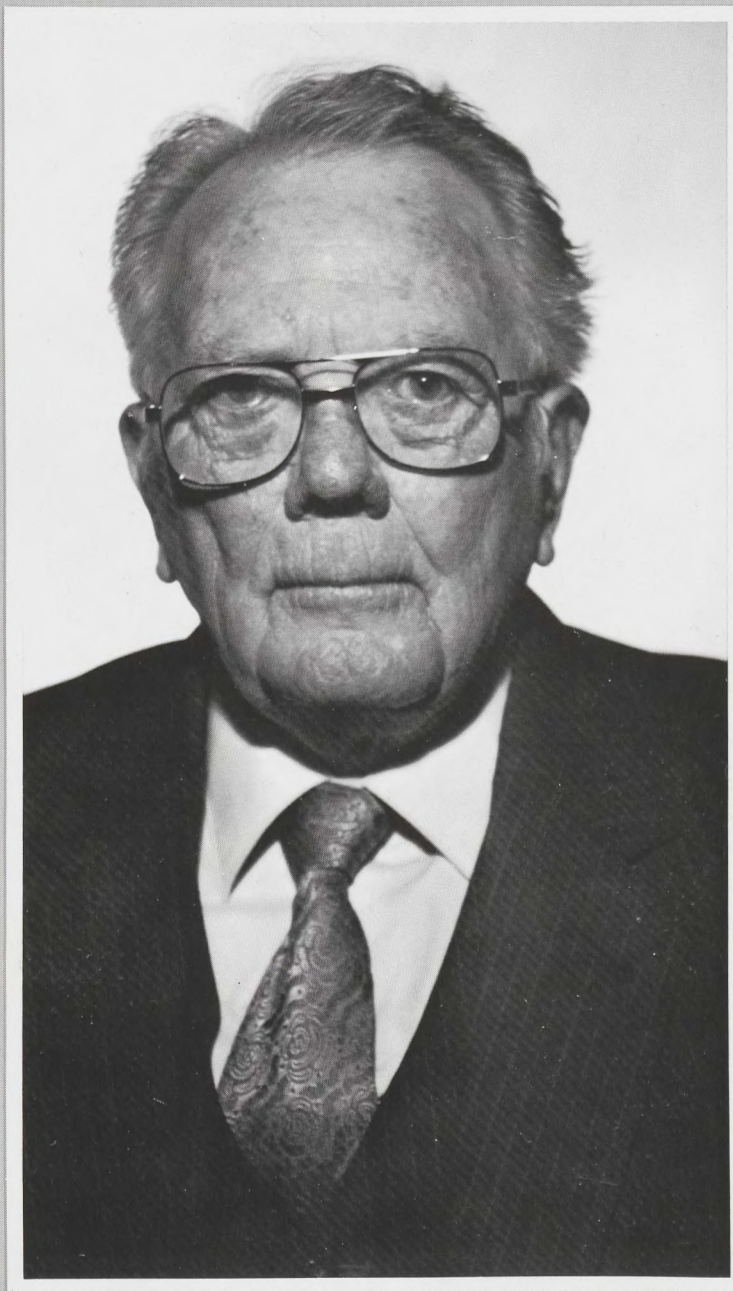

Chosen Alumnus of the Year was Leroy Magee, who entered Southwest in 1933.

Remaining loyal to Southwest Mississippi Junior College, Magee frequently traveled from his home in Columbus, Ga., to attend alumni meetings at Southwest. He established the Magee Scholarship honoring the memory of his wife.

Mrs. Patsy Terrell Boler was one of the two inducted into the Southwest Sports Hall of Fame.

Mrs. Boler was on the Varsity Volleyball Team from 1970-1972, winning the All-Tournament Player Award at the State Tournament in 1972. During this year she was the first Doubles Junior College Tennis, President of the Women's Recreational Association, and recipient of the school's "Most Athletic" Award.

Ralph W. (Rod) Davis, a member of the 1938 graduating class at Southwest won All-State honors in football, basketball, and baseball while at Southwest. Also, he coached at Southwest from 1949-1953, with a record as Head Baseball Coach of 57 wins and only 16 losses.

The Southwest Bears football team, under the direction of head coach Larry Kinslow and assistants Buddy Bailey and Paul Dancsisin, finished the 1986 season with a 3-6-1 record. Here is a brief look back at each game along with each game's offensive and defensive standouts.

Southwest vs. MS Delta (at Moorhead)—Both teams scored on first half touchdowns, but neither could convert an extra point as the Bears and Trojans fought to a tie.

OFFENSE: Michael Hodges—17 carries for 59 yards, Terrance Turner—16 carries for 58 yards

DEFENSE: Willie Leggett—four solo tackles, three assists, ½ sack

SMJC	6
MS Delta	6

Southwest vs. Gulf Coast (at Pascagoula)—The Bear's first victory of the year was indeed a sweet one as an all-around team effort led them to an upset of the Bulldogs, ranked 10th in the nation at the time and winners of the 1986 state championship.

OFFENSE: Troy Constantine—14 carries for 89 yards

DEFENSE: Warren Bates—two interceptions and a fumble recovery.

SMJC	20
Gulf Coast	10

Southwest vs. Jones Co. (at Ellisville)—The Bobcats completely dominated Southwest in a game that was not as close as the score might indicate.

OFFENSE: Darrell Pounds—10 passes, six completions for 158 yards

DEFENSE: Carnell Carter—three solo tackles, eight assists

SMJC	14
Jones Co.	38

East MS vs. Southwest (at Summit)—Southwest led 14-10 at the half and held the Lions on four downs inside the five yard line with under a minute remaining to seal the win and make Homecoming '86 a success.

OFFENSE: Darrell Pounds—17 passes, seven completions for 120 yards

DEFENSE: Willie Leggett—one solo tackle, eight assists, Robert Holmes—two interceptions

SMJC	21
East MS	17

Southwest vs. Itawamba (at Fulton)—The Bears gave up two first quarter scores and 232 total offensive yards in their loss to the Indians.

OFFENSE: Craig Simmons—six passes, four completions for 28 yards

DEFENSE: Robert Holmes—two solo tackles, six assists

SMJC	0
Itawamba	13

Coahoma vs. Southwest (at Summit)—Southwest picked up 278 yards of total offense in winning its second game of the year.

OFFENSE: Michael Hodges—11 carries for 105 yards and a 9.5 yard per carry average, Hugh Watkins—two field goals

DEFENSE: Tracey Thomas—two solo tackles, six assists, 1/2 sack, Theron Morris—two solo tackles, six assists

SMJC	20
Coahoma	12

East Central vs. Southwest (at Summit)—A 12-point third quarter helped the Warriors in their come-from-behind victory over the Bears.

OFFENSE: Michael Hodges—eight carries for 48 yards

DEFENSE: Bucky Darden—three solo tackles, eight assists, one sack

SMJC	10
East Central	15

Hinds vs. Southwest (at Summit)—A 95 yard kickoff return by Terrance Turner helped the Bears to a 10-3 half-time lead. The Eagles, however, picked up 10 second half points to pull out the victory.

OFFENSE: Michael Hodges—11 carries for 57 yards

DEFENSE: Tracey Thomas—four solo tackles, five assists

SMJC	10
Hinds	13

Co-Lin vs. Southwest (at Summit)—The Bears led in almost every category except points as they fell to the arch-rival Wolves.

OFFENSE: Terrance Turner—18 carries for 163 yards and a 9.1 yard per carry average, Darrell Pounds—13 passes, seven completions for 111 yards.

SMJC	23
Co-Lin	34

Southwest vs. Pearl River (at Poplarville)—A fourth quarter touchdown proved to be too much, too late for the Bears as they dropped their sixth game of the season.

OFFENSE: Darrell Pounds—28 passes, 14 completions for 200 yards, Dale Faulk—seven receptions for 100 yards

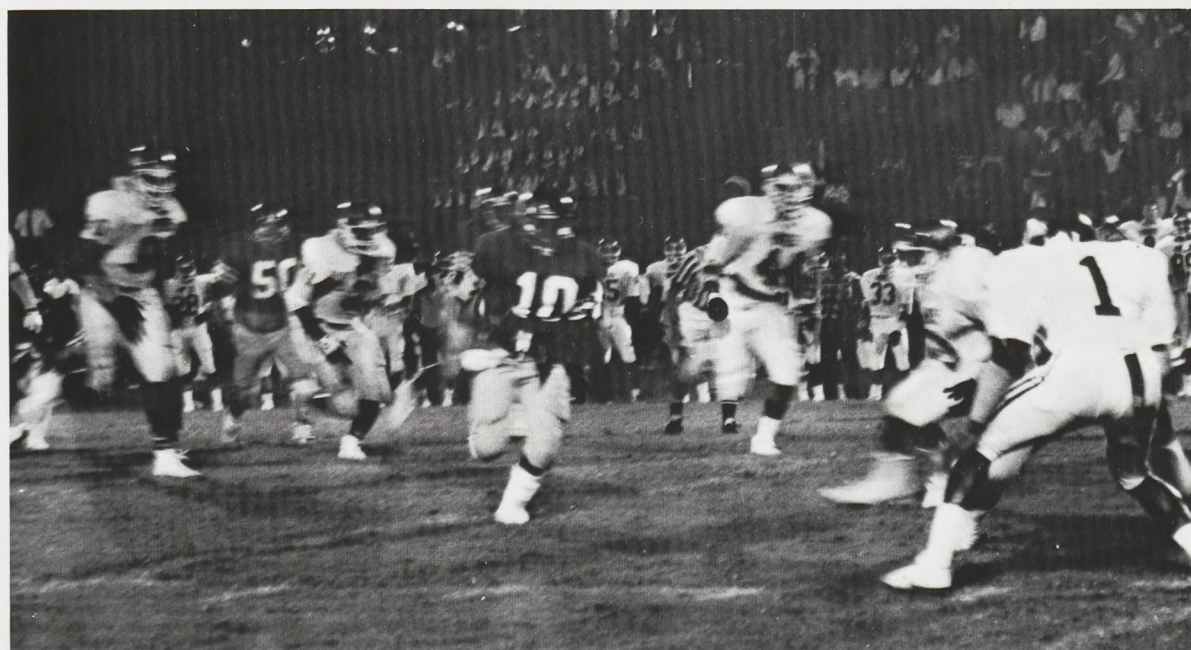

DEFENSE: Robert Holmes—five solo tackles, three assists

FACULTY

President Holmes graduated from Jones Junior College. He then went to the University of Southern Mississippi where he received a B.S. and M.A. degree in School Administration.

He has been at Southwest for thirty-four years, serving fifteen of those years as president. Upon coming to Southwest, President Holmes was a psychology, education, and history instructor, and basketball coach. He was soon given the role of Dean of Men along with the prior jobs. In 1957, he was appointed Vice President and in 1963, the duties of Academic Dean were added. In 1972, he was named President of the institution.

Although public relations and finance are his main priorities, President Holmes strives to attain the best for his students and school in every area. He is warm and personable and wants to know all his students on a one-to-one basis. He enjoys the associations that have been established through the years at Southwest. The respect President Holmes feels for the students is evident in his words, "If it were not for the students, there would be no need for a president!"

President Holmes helps move into the new administration building.

President Holmes enjoys presiding over the graduation ceremony.

President Holmes likes to keep in touch with the student body.

PRESIDENT HORACE C. HOLMES

Jerry Reid
Dean of Students

Jerry Reid, a native of Monticello, is an alumnus of SMJC who received his B.S. and M.ED. degree from the University of Southern Mississippi. He became Dean of Students at SMJC in 1969. His former experiences prepared him for the job as Dean of Students. These experiences include the job of football coach at SMJC which he began in 1959. Prior to the time he came to Southwest, he was principal, coach of football, basketball, and baseball at Runnleston High School, Runnelstown, Mississippi. Dean Reid is a member of Summit United Methodist Church. He enjoys fishing and hunting in his spare time.

"Southwest has the best bunch of students ever. The students are more serious about school than ever before."

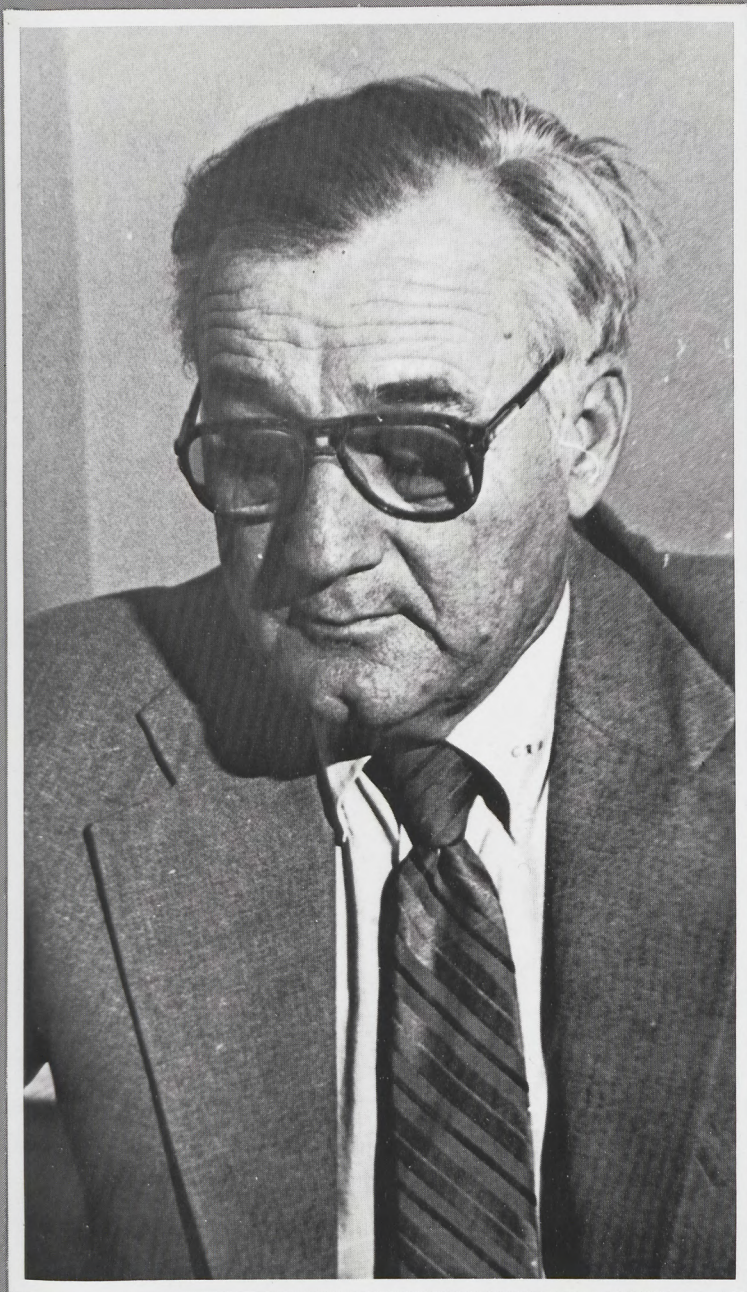

"I love being here."

William A. Quin
Business Manager

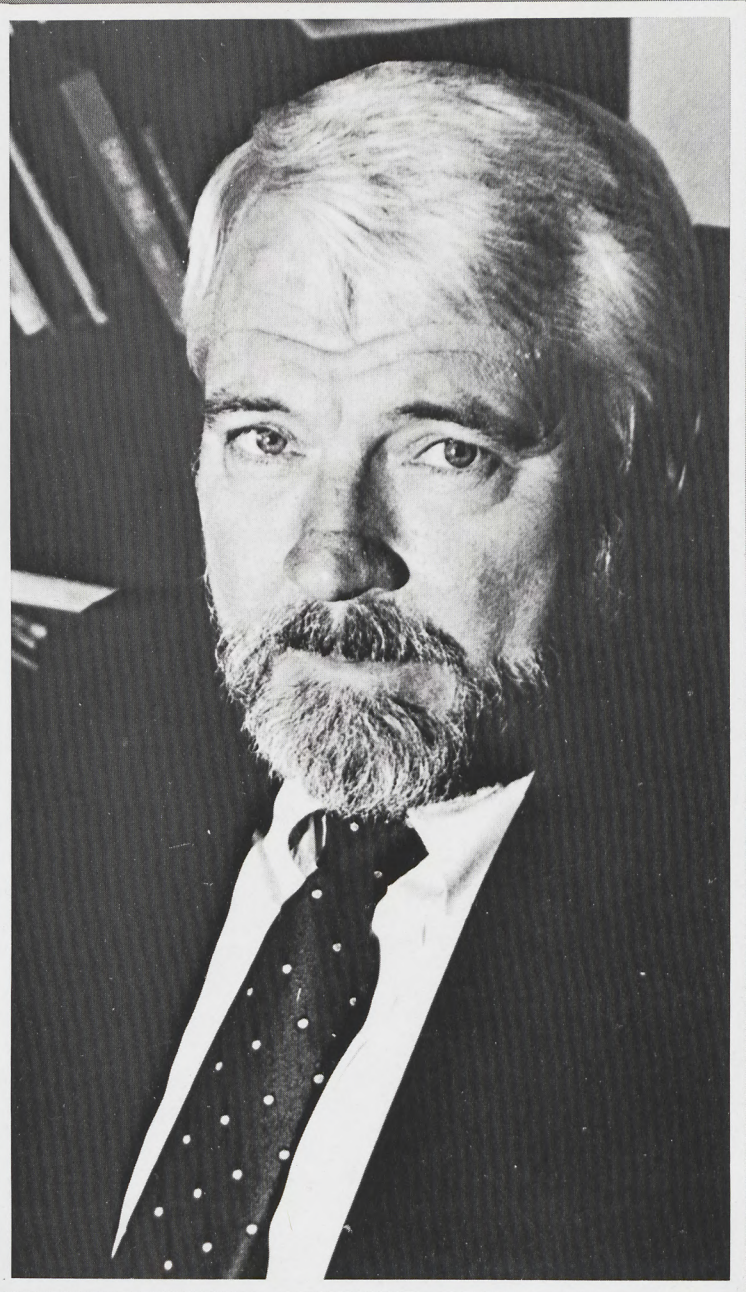

William A. Quin, a native of Walthall County, is an alumnus of SMJC. and has been the Business Manager of Southwest since 1968. He is responsible for all funds received and expended, is the custodian of the physical plant and is supervisor of all employees and auxiliary units of Southwest. He also assists President Holmes with the institutional budget and in the recruiting of new students. Mr. Quin is a Baptist and enjoys hunting, fishing, and following his children's activities.

"Southwest has done more for me than I can do for it."

Charles R. Breeland
Dean of Instruction, Registrar

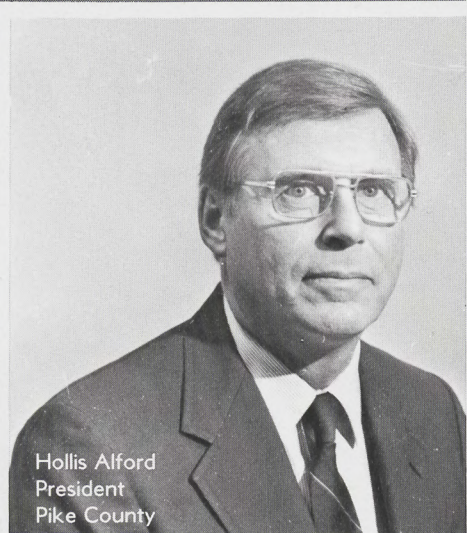

Charles R. Breeland, a native of Tylertown, is an alumnus of SMJC and has a B.S. and a M.Ed. degree from the University of Southern Mississippi. He is the Chief academic officer and has the task of coordinating the academic programs of the college. As registrar he keeps all academic records of SMJC students and updates them several times a year. He is a member of the 1st Baptist Church in Summit, secretary of the Summit Rotary Club and enjoys stamp collecting and reading. "The students are great."

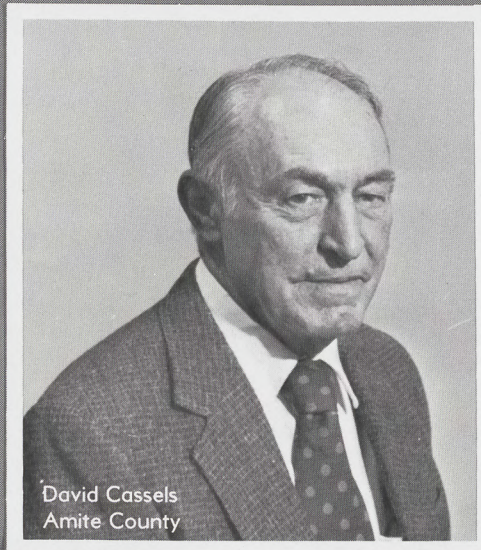

K.L. Simmons
Director of Vocational-Technical Education

K.L. Simmons attended the University of Southern Mississippi where he received his B.S. degree and did graduate study. For the past 18 years he has been connected with Southwest as Director of Vocational-Technical Education; he is directly responsible for the total operation of the division. Mr. Simmons' previous positions at Southwest include instructor of Auto mechanics, Welding, and Drafting. He is a member of Crystal Springs Baptist Church, a former member of Rotary Club, and a former leader of the Boy Scouts of America.

ACADEMICS

Mr. Calhoun helps his students.

Jay becomes discouraged over a math problem.

Southwest offers several mathematics courses to teach the science of numbers, their operations, and generalizations of matter. Taught at SMJC are basic math, intermediate algebra, college algebra, trigonometry, calculus, and analytical geometry, the real number system, geometry, measurement and probability, and differential equations.

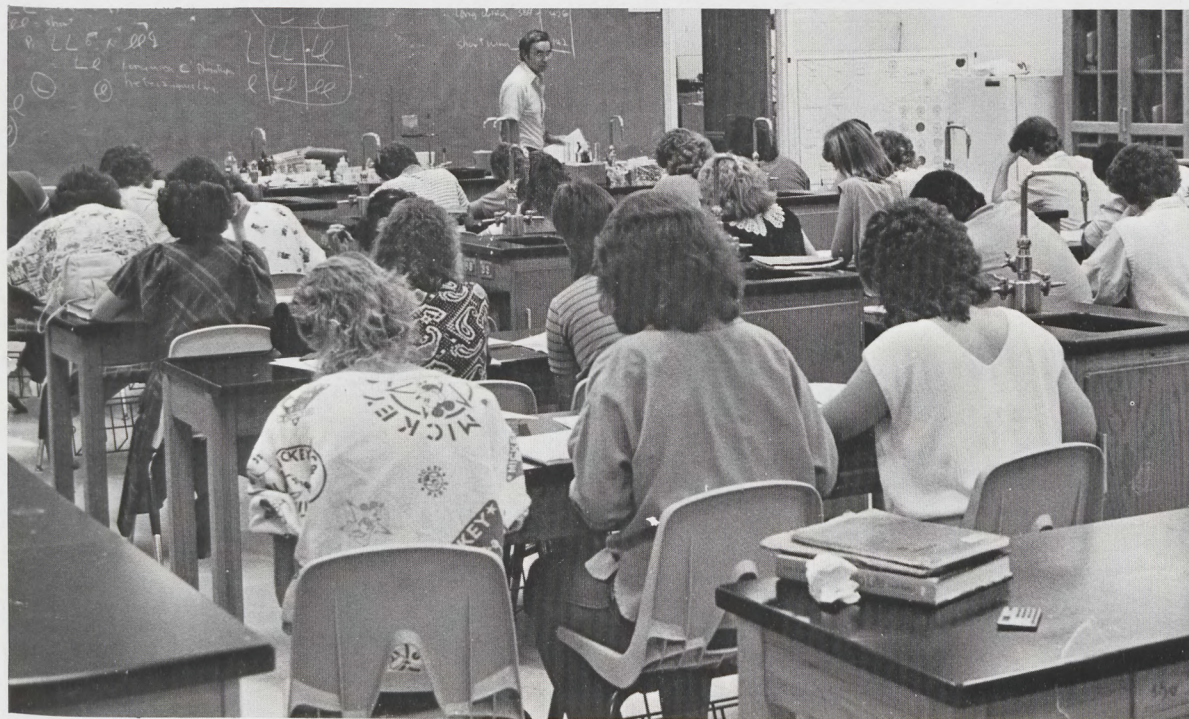

Julie enjoys a Coke and the real number system.

MATHEMATICS

Mrs. Guy demonstrates how to "tickle" the evaporating dish.

Dr. Burrows explains how to work chi square problems.

Science is a branch of knowledge about the operation of general laws tested through the scientific method. SMJC has qualified teachers to instruct the many scientific courses offered at this institution.

Science classes offered at Southwest include biology, microbiology, inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, physical science, physics, and anatomy and physiology.

Mrs. King presides over lab.

SCIENCE

Journalism students listen intently.

Mrs. Craig's class knows the answer!

LANGUAGE

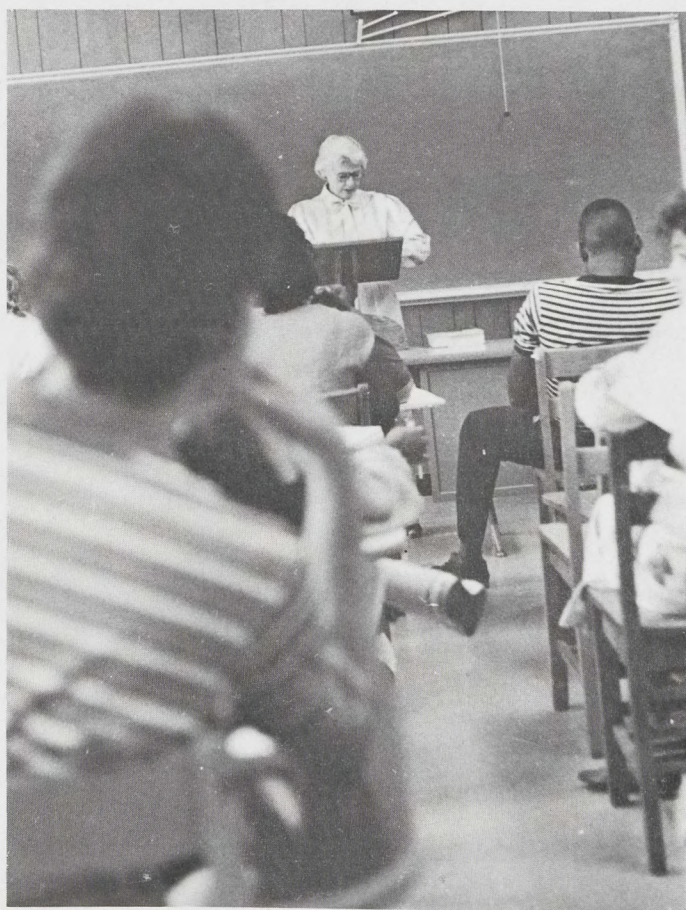

Speech students wait for the next demonstration.

Several language courses are taught at SMJC, all enabling students to become more confident in public speaking, more fluent in their native tongue, and in their ability to learn new languages.

Among the language and language-related courses offered at SMJC are public speaking, reading, English composition, British literature, French, and German.

Michael Cameron listens intently to BEOWULF.

Mrs. Williams explains how to get an "A" paper.

Coach Koenig's class, ready for another fun day.

Students participate in their government panel.

Sociology students work on a test.

Coach Dancisin discusses Octavian with a student.

Coach Koenig records test grades.

Social science has been defined by WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY as "a branch of science which deals with the institutions and functioning of human society and with the interpersonal relationships of individuals as members of society."

Southwest offers many social science courses, taught by qualified and highly-trained instructors. Included in the social science curriculum are Western Civilization, American History, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology.

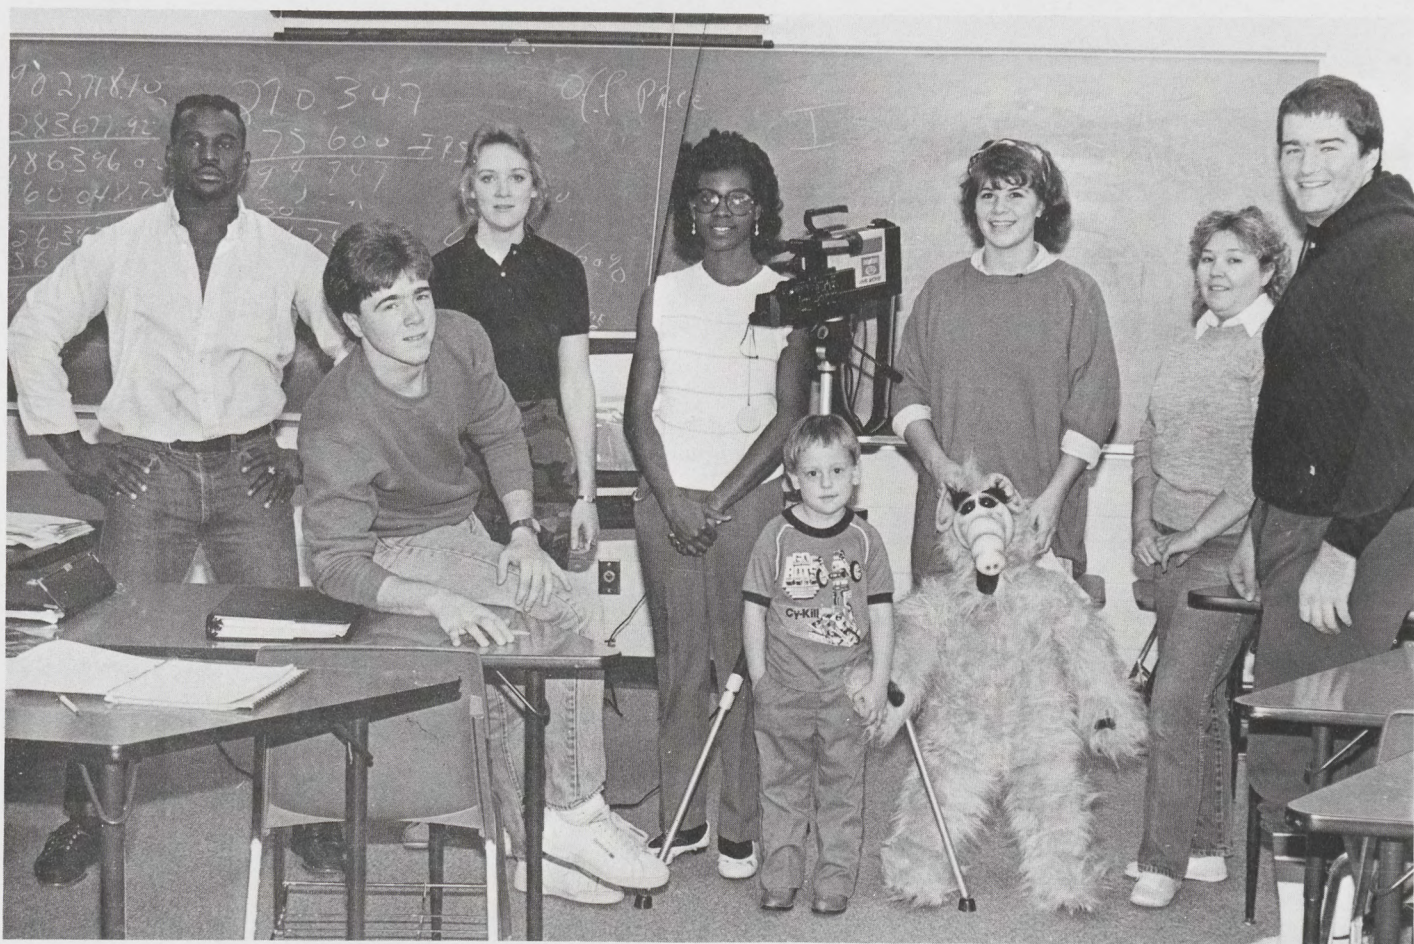

Students wait for another fun day!

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Mrs. Cecelia Brister instructs her accounting class.

Mrs. White keeps her class busy.

Southwest Mississippi Junior College offers both one and two-year programs in business. These programs are Administrative Secretary and Administrative Aide.

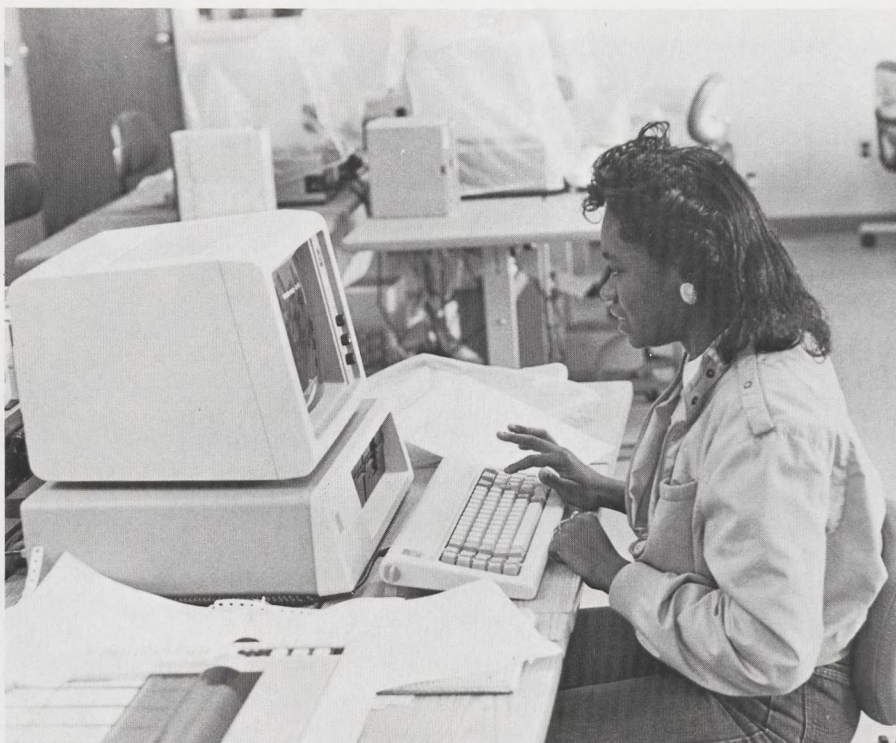

Upon successful completion of these programs students who have maintained a C average receive a certificate. Courses include Microcomputer Applications, Introduction to Information Processing, and Secretarial Accounting with Computerized Applications.

These courses are for the student who wants to improve his secretarial skills or wants to begin working.

Business is directed by Mrs. Sue White; Mrs. Sheryl Jagers-Ashley directs the secretarial program.

SMJC also offers the first two years of a four-year course in Business Administration and Business Education. Included in courses offered are Introduction to Business, Business Statistics, Business Law, Principles of Real Estate, Real Estate Law and Real Estate Appraisal.

BUSINESS

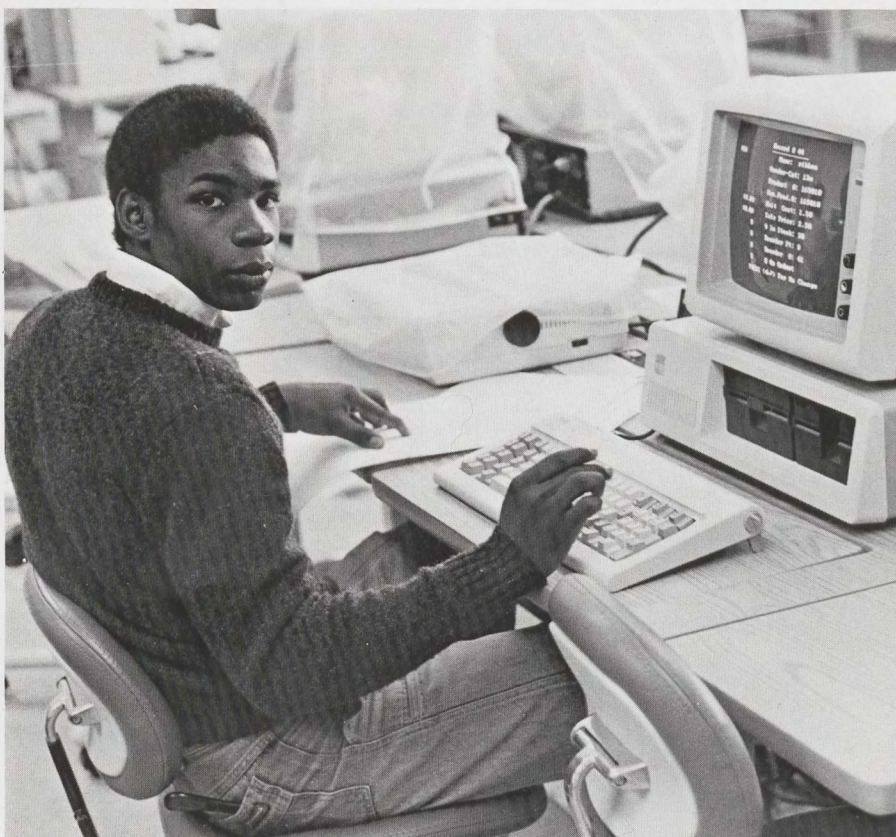

Several classes of computer science are offered at Southwest.

Basic Programming, Fortran Programming, Pascal I and II, and Introduction to Data Processing are several courses included.

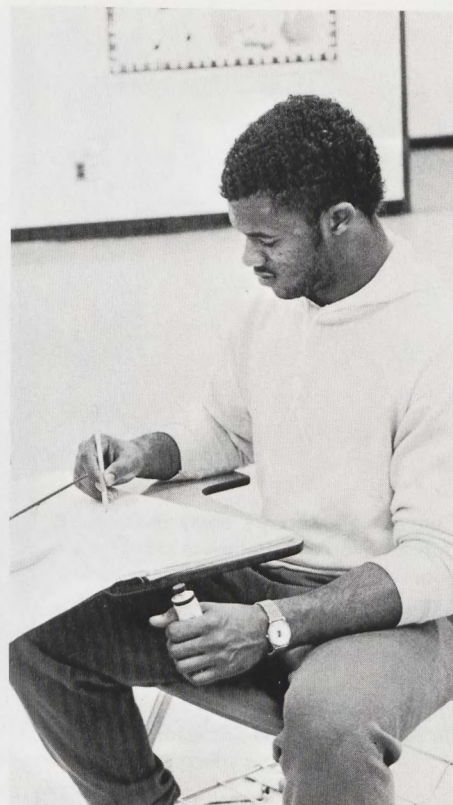

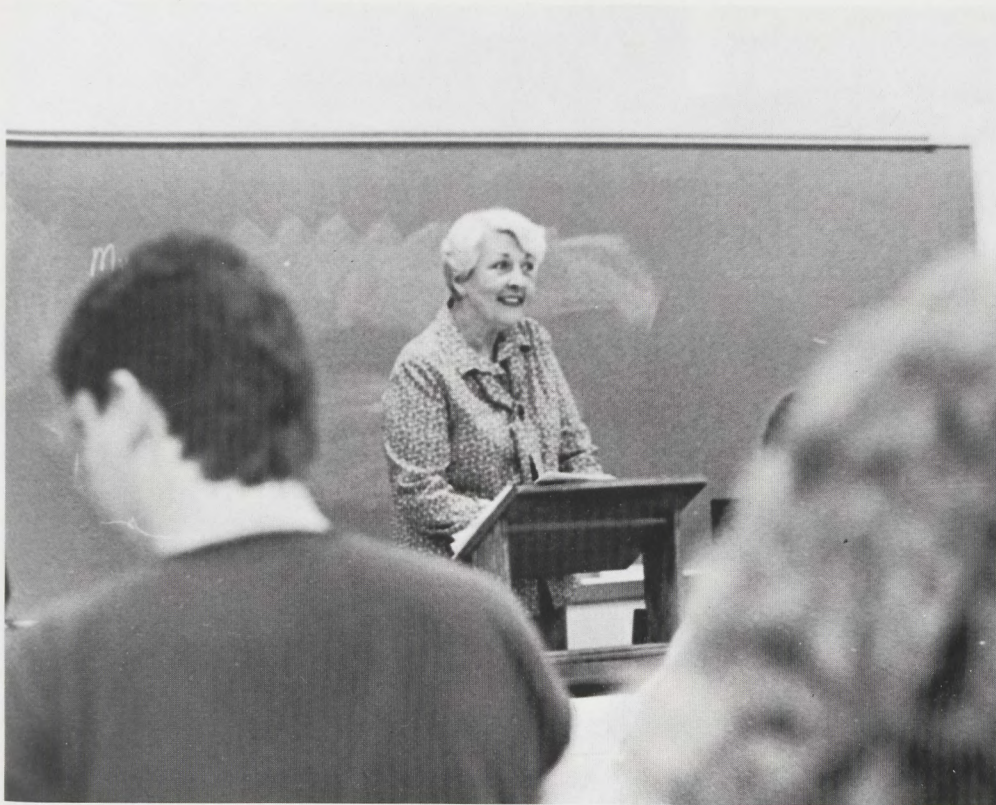

These classes are offered in day or night sessions.

Advisors for majors in computer science are Dr. Thomas Calhoun and James Turner.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

The Fine Arts program at Southwest consists of music appreciation, music for children, piano, music theory, voice and art. The Southwest Band and Chorus are available to help promote the students participation in the fine arts as well as emphasizing skill and dedication.

The Henry Lewis Health Occupations Building at Southwest houses the associate degree nursing, practical nursing and medical records clerk programs.

The associate degree nursing program is designed to provide educational opportunities to qualified students for career nursing. This division is accredited by the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning of Mississippi.

The practical nursing program is designed to teach understanding of and appreciation for the basic sciences and to develop basic nursing skills necessary for safe patient care.

The medical records clerk program trains students for positions in doctors' offices, hospitals, health departments and other health related fields.

HEALTH OCCUPATIONS

The vocational programs at Southwest provide practice and training for those who will seek employment after completing the program and receiving the certificate awarded for successful completion of the program.

Southwest offers Auto Mechanics, Cosmetology, Heating, Refrigeration, and Air Conditioning, Machine Shop, Rotary Drilling, Welding, Building Trades, Electricity/Electronics, and Diesel Mechanics.

Right: Dot Ennis practices on Paige Causey.

Top: Mike Ginn, Darrell Waller, Randy LeBeau work diligently in diesel mechanics. Bottom: Electricity/electronics students Andy Cooper and David McDaniel.

Rotary Drilling prepares students to perform work in the drilling field. After successful completion of this course the student is certified.

VO-TECH

Top: J.J. Wilson, Darin Allen, and Roy Dillon absorb new knowledge of air conditioning. Bottom: Willie Mae Thomas looks on as Cynthia Miller works on someone's hair.

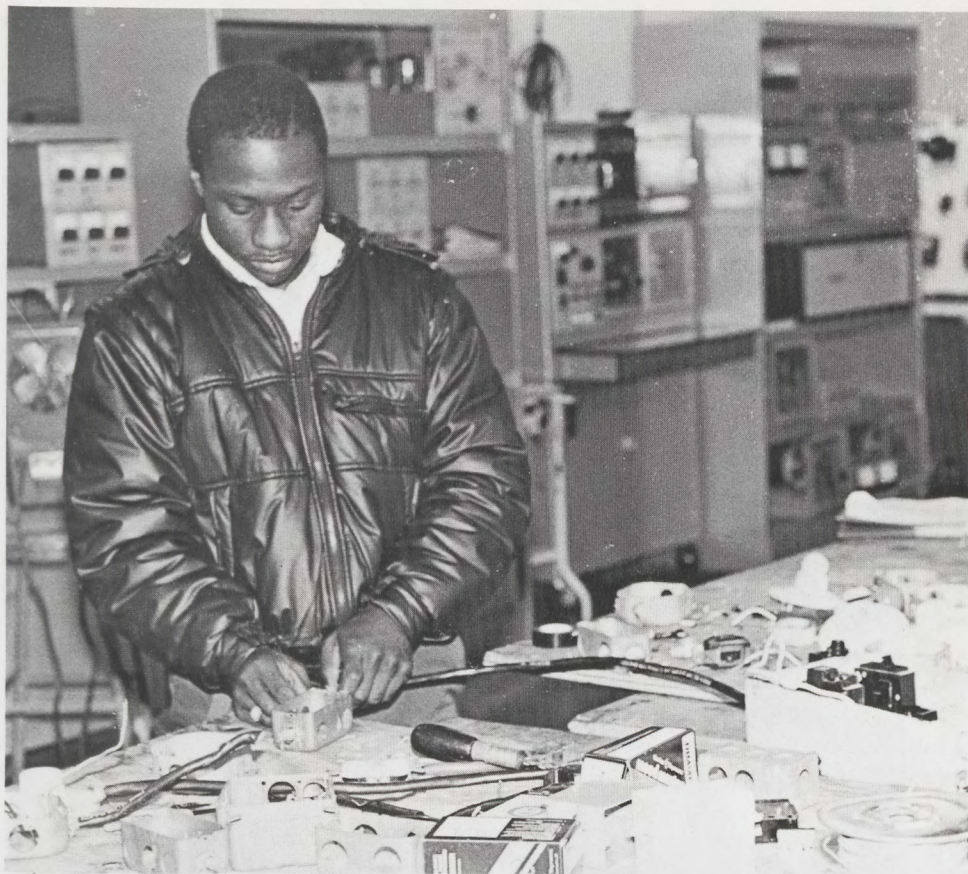

Heating, refrigeration, and air conditioning covers material from basic electricity to different types of heating and cooling.

Students become acquainted with the tools and learn about safety as well as the basic refrigerants and refrigeration.

Welding basically teaches students safety and an introduction to various tools with laboratory performance. A concentration on textbook material allows the student to apply his knowledge to full-time employment.

Diesel mechanics provides students the opportunity to gain knowledge and skills in a related occupational field. After completion of the course, the student receives a certificate.

Auto mechanics at Southwest consists of a program of general study as well as a study of the functions and service components such as transmissions, automotive heating and cooling, and the steering system.

VO-TECH

Building trade involves the use of hand and power wood-working tools. A student learns terminology of the carpentry trade, safety practices, characteristics of building materials, using and caring for tools, and methods of interior and exterior finishing.

Cosmetology trains hair dressers with the use of demonstrations, practice on mannequins and on fellow students. After completion of the course, the student is eligible for employment.

Top: Paul Lee and Shane Walsworth work in the machine shop. Bottom: Cliff Carter works in rotary drilling.

The training capabilities of the Industrial Electronics program teaches the knowledge of electrical theory, measurements of motors and related information. Upon completion, students receive a certificate.

The Southwest Machine Shop teaches basic safety in order for individuals with the knowledge and skills required in this field to be gainfully employed. A certificate is awarded upon completion.

Top: Future diesel mechanics, Billy Ray Gamble and Jerome Thompson. Bottom: Ray Taylor shows Terry Taylor and Kenny Boykin how to fix an engine.

Time it was
 And what a time it was
 It was a time of innocence

 Long ago it must be
 I have a photograph
 Preserve your memories
 They're all that's left you.
 Simon and Garfunkel

Though there were many times when I thought there never would be a yearbook, it has become a reality and there are so many people to thank.

I want to thank my roommate Molly for putting up with my temper tantrums, orders and endless work assignments; Tommy for being such a good friend and faithful annual staff member; Lisa and Mike and the rest of my family for all their hard work; and Sally Stewart and Kudzu Imprints for the great cover design.

I want Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Craig to know how much I appreciated and respected their advice and patience. A big thanks to Gary and Steve for all the hard work they did on the pictures, I really appreciated it, even though at times they might have thought different. Thanks also to those who helped by contributing their pictures, advice or ability to "pull strings".

Southwest means a lot of different things to different people. I hope I found something to spark memories of your time at Southwest, whatever it meant to you.
